Food Allergy Awareness Week (FAAW) has started.

We are all in this together. Make these 7 days in May of value to everyone.

Up to 2% of our adult population are at risk of a severe allergic reaction so let's help them in their workplaces and at mealtimes.

Join in and show your support by:

Alerting your school, workplace, coffee shop and restaurant to this valuable food allergy awareness week. Help them to become allergy aware and suggest ways they can show their support.

Anaphylaxis Australia members will be receiving their FAAW kits in early April.

Members of the public will be able to access some of the FAAW tools from our website in early April. These will include an email signature downloadable poster and awareness tools.

Direct everyone to our website www.allergyfacts.org.au or contact coordinator@allergyfacts.org.au for a Food Allergy Awareness Week public awareness kit.

Don't take risks if you have food allergies!
